

Information for Carers

Does Medibank have an employee network?

The Medibank Carers Network is a safe space for all employees to connect with other carers in the business to receive support and share resources and stories.

Can I speak to someone in the employee network?

If you're interested in speaking with someone from the Carers Employee Network, let your Talent Partner know and they will connect you.

Does Medibank offer particular leave for Carers?

Carers leave is offered as part of our 'personal leave' policy. This means your personal leave can mean what it needs to for you.

How does Medibank support employees with Carers needs?

A carer can be many things, but at Medibank, we define carers as those with unpaid caring responsibilities. Whether caring for an elderly parent, a loved one with a chronic illness, or a child with a disability, Carers are our everyday unsung heroes. Someone who puts other people's needs before their own.

Medibank has been accredited as a 'Carers + Employers Level 1 Carer Employer' by Carers Australia in recognition of commitment to our carers.

Our goal is to ensure our carers are better prepared, better supported and better connected throughout their journeys. The Carers Hub offers information for both employees and People Leaders because with every high and every low, Medibank will be with you every step of the way. Along with our Carers Network, we also have a Carers Support Program for employees to utilise.
